MEETING OF PRESS ASSOCIATION

Newspaper Men of Virginia Gather in Staunton Today

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

This Year's Assembling Will, it is Believed, Eclipse Any Heretofore Witnessed

Staunton, Va., July 25—With a big public meeting in the Beverley Theatre this morning at 11 o'clock, the annual convention of the Virginia Press Association came to order for its first session, Albert Shultz, president of the Business League of Staunton, presiding.

Invocation was pronounced by the Rev. A. M. Fraser, D. D., and Hon. H. H Wayt, mayor of Staunton, made the address of welcome to the editors, in which he said he turned over the keys of the city to them and promised them the best time of their lives. The response was made by Robert S. Barrett, of this city, president of the association, who delivered the speech as set forth below.

A telegram received from Mr. Barrett states that the opening of the convention was very successful and that it was prepared to have one of the best conventions in the history of the association. Governor Henry C. Stuart, who was scheduled to make an address this morning, wired that he was unable to be present at the last moment, and Lieut-Governor J. Taylor Ellyson, spoke in his absense this morning.

This afternoon at two a. business session was held in the ball room of the Virginia Hotel, and at four o'clock the Blue Ridge Light and Power Company was the host to the members of the association on a street car ride and a trip through the company's plant. At five o'clock at Gypsy Hill Park, a luncheon was given to the publishers by the Virginia Hotel, during which a large band furnished concert music.

At eight o'clock tonight the big meeting of the day will take place, when a public entertainment is slated at the Beverley Theatre, at which Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, Hon. John Barrett, director of the Pan American Bureau, Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, Mrs. Kate Langley Bosher, Lieutenant-Governor J. Taylor Ellyson, Attorney-General John Garland Pollard, and Westmoreland Davis, presidential elector, are scheduled to speak.

The editors will remain in session until Thursday night.

Following was the address delivered this morning by President R. S. Barrett:

Staunton, Va., July 25—Since the last meeting of the Virginia Press Association a year ago there has been little of a domestic nature to arouse the interest of the members of the Association. Conditions within the borders of the Old Dominion have been tranquil and our people have enjoyed a portion of the prosperity which has swept the country from ocean to ocean. With the prohibition question definitely settled, the taxation methods adjusted for the time being, and with a year free from political contests of any import the problems at home have not been such as to worry the Virginia editor. He has had the time to consider the questions of world wide import which at times have threatened the peace of his country as well as those great problems of international nature whose settlement mean much to America. And in the solutions of those problems the editor, not alone as the moulder of public opinion in his community, but as the connecting link between the great public and the men at the head of affairs of state, has had to bear his share of the burden imposed by these foreign relations. But we, of Virginia, have felt sure that their settlement would be along the lines of the best interest of our nation and people as long as they were entrusted to at noble nativce of this city Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States.

But as the war has brought great problems to the editorial sanctum it has laid upon the desk of the publisher even greater ones and it is to this particular portion of the newspaper man's responsibility that I wish to address myself.

Perhaps at no time within the past decade has the outlook for the Virginia publisher from financial standpoint been less assuring than at present. At every step he is confronted with an increased expense account while there has been no material increase in his revenues. He is now just recovering from the depression of 1914 when the war commenced and the increase of 30 per cent in advertising revenues reported at the meeting of the American Publisher's Association would not hold true in Virginia. While circulation figures show some slight advances this has been caused by the demand for war news and at the present price of paper has not been profitable to the publisher.

The cost of paper has been the greatest item to be considered by the publisher and the condition of the paper market today is such as to cause alarm although not the panicy situation in which some newspaper men find themselves. Within the last thirty days I have had interviews with the principal paper manufacturers in this country in my official capacity as representative of the Department of Commerce in its investigation of the export paper situation and I bring to you some little encouraging news of the comparatively short duration of the present condition.

A year ago the Virginia publisher was paying from 2 to 2 3-4 cents per pound for his news print according to the amount of his yearly purchases. Today it is impossible to make a contract and the price ranges from 4 to 6 cents per pound for immediate delivery.

While the latter figure is of course not justified there is good reason for a heavy increase in the price of paper. There has been an abnormal domestic demand caused by the increase of circulation of the big Metropolitan papers and heavy increases of advertising in the large cities; the importations of wood pulp from Scandinavian points has been entirely discontinued on account of the war; Canada has placed an embargo on the shipment of paper or pulp to this country; the world is looking to us to supply her paper needs and is insistently crying for help; there have been heavy increases in wages, while every article that goes into the making of paper has risen in price some of the chemicals which were formerly imported from Germany having increased a hundred fold.

But every day the production is being increased, mills are working to capacity and new mills are under construction. With in a few months the situation will improve and when the war is over conditions will approach normal. While I don not think that we will ever have paper as we once had it in this country two years ago I do believe that at a price of $2.25 per 100 pounds at the mill the manufacturer will make a fair profit and the cost will not be excessive to the publisher. But to get this price there must be organization and I suggest that a permanent committee be named from this association who will undertake to see that the Virginia publisher gets his paper supply at a fair and reasonable price.

With paper at any where near its present price, type metals soaring above all previous quotations, inks showing an advance of fifty per cent and labor insistent for more money with which to meet the constantly increasing cost of living, the publisher is confronted with finding more business, increasing his prices or closing down. I cannot see the prospect of enough new business in the near future in Virginia to meet the increased expenses and therefore the conclusion that I reach is that the present business must pay a higher tariff. Subscription rates must be raised and the delinquent must be given a short shift. Circulation must be cut down as nearly as possible to the actual number of paid subscribers. The exchange list must be pruned and while I do not advocate the policy of one great Virginia newspaper in cutting off its country exchanges there can be a reform in the number of exchanges without great harm to those interested. Some papers will find it possible to use a lighter weight of stock, reduce their margins or cut down the number of papers, all with the object of reducing the amount of paper used.

Advertising rates must be raised and the free notice abolished. Payment must be made for every inch of space used. There can be no exceptions, churches, fraternal organizations, must help you to bear your burden.

Every economy must be practiced and every effort made to put the Virginia printing shops on an efficiency basis where the latest labor saving devices may be used and the costs of production cut to a minimum. And in this connection mya I suggest to every Virginia publisher that if he has not already done so, he purchase a baling machine so as to bale his waste paper, keep the shop neat and clean, set an example of the necessity of saving paper to the community and incidentally pay a handsome dividend upon the cost of the machine.

I desire to take this opportunity to express to my brethren and sisters of the fraternity my keen appreciation of their many courtesies to me since I have been their midst and the deep regret that have to be away from them for some time in the future. I am laying aside the editorial pen for a year or so and while I will retain by interest in the Gazette I will be compelled to be in fields far away from you, too far to hear your kindly voices and see your cordial smiles, but not too far I hope to be oue of your memory or to lose the place I have always felt that I had in your hearts. I will carry away with me the most kindly recollections of every one of you and hope that in the near future I will be able to again join your ranks and wear the proudest title a man can hope to wear—a Virginia editor.

DRIVING TO GALICIA

Attacks in Southern Volhynia Repulsed, According to Statement of German Headquarters

Berlin, July 25.—Emperor William, it is officially announced, has moved from the western to the eastern theatre of the war, accompanied by the chief of the General Staff of the Army in the field.

Further attacks by the Russians in strong force have been made of the Teutonic lines northwest of Berestechk, in Southern Volhynia, near the Galician border, the War Office announced. The Russian efforts to advance, however, were completely repulsed.

The statement dealing with operations on the eastern front is as follows:

"On the northern section of the front and with General Count von Bothmer's army, there have been only patrol engagements.

"Northwest of Berestechk, strong attacks by the Russians were completely repulsed."

Petrograd, July 25.—An official statement issued today says that on the Russian front the Germans have been dislodged from another position along the River Lipa. The statement follows:

"On the Lipa Sunday we dislodged the Germans from the village of Galietchine and took some prisoners and on machine gun. On July 21, near the village of Kolmoff, on the Lipa, an Austrian company, 193 strong, surrendered to our troops."

DANISH WEST INDIES

United States Negotiating Treaty for Purchase of Islands.

Copenhagen, July 25—A treaty for the purchase of the Danish West Indies by the United States has been negotiated between the governments of Denmark and the United States, and in the near future it is to be submitted to the Senate and House of the United States and to the two houses of the Danish parliament for approval, according to information given in Copenhagen by the highest authority.

If the treaty is ratified as it stands in "project" form, the United States will pay for the islands $25,000,000, and in addition will relinquish to Denmark the rights of the United States in Greenland. Greenland is a Danish possession, and the rights which the United States will abandon are merely rights of discovery, the scope of which is ill-defined.

The United States will obtain from Denmark full possession of the islands of St. Thomas, St. John and St. Croix, or Santa Cruz, as it is better known. These islands lie about 50 miles off the east coast of Porto Rico. They are 142 miles square in area and support a population of 27,000 persons. Nearly all the inhabitants of the islands are negroes, who live by the cultivation of cane sugar.

VIRGINIA NEWS

The body of the five-year-old son of Lucian Randall, manager of the farm of J. P. Leachman, treasurer of Prince William county, was found Sunday afternoon where it had washed ashore in the woods of Compton farm, more than a mile from the bridge over Broad run at Bristow station, near which he was drowned. The lad had thought it great sport to ride a horse to water. At noon Saturday, when the men came in from the cornfield, he rode proudly to the run. His father, following a short distance behind, arrived in time to see the horse floating down the swollen stream and the child nowhere in sight. His cries, as he was washed from the horse's back, brought others to the scene, but the small body disappeared.

Speeding to answer an emergency call a short distance outside of Norfolk, Dr. S. W. Hammond was probably fatally injured and the physician's personal friend, W. W. Crumm, who agreed to give him a lift on his motorcycle, was dangerously wounded Sunday afternoon, when the machine the two men were riding collided with a rapidly-moving suburban trolley car at a grade crossing. Dr. Hammond sustained a fracture at the base of the skull, and the attending surgeons declares death is inevitable. Crumm is internally injured, but probably will recover. Dr. Hammond received a hurry call to a fifteen-year-old boy, who had taken poison. It seems that the youth became angry when his father declined to give him some money, and drank the poison. He will die.

LETS BATHERS DROWN

Harding Cries For Help, But Onlookers Fear Maneaters.

New York, July 25.—Not sharks, but the fear of sharks, caused the death of a man yesterday in the Shrewsbury river, near Atlantic Highlands, N. J.

Samuel Harding, 35, of Newark went swimming off Gravely Point, and was not far from the shore when some strong swimmers, were on the beach, and two or three youngmen ran toward the water with the intent of going to the rescue.

But some one shouted: "Sharks! A shark's got him! Don't go in; there are sharks there"!

The neighborhood has been so worked up over recent killings by sharks that this was the first thing some thought of. So the young men saw Harding go down three times without offering him any aid.

About twenty minutes later his body was brought up by an oysterman's rake. It was not marked, so the shark scare had been mere hysteria.

Just arrived a fresh supply of Crabs Clams, and Oysters. Call or Telephone and orders will be given prompt attention. Ramell Cafe S. Royal Street.

SEES VICTORY IN FEW MONTHS

Lloyd-George Tells Commons British Resources Will Win

ASKS FOR A BILLION

Great Britain's Expenses Since Beginning of the War Total About $14,260,000,000

London, July 25—"British resourcefulness and British intelligence are going to snatch victory in a few months," was the statement made in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon by David Lloyd-George the successor of Field Marshall Earl Kitchener at the head of the War Office, in replying to a criticism made by Winston Spencer Churchill of Premier Asquith for not reviewing the war situation when the Premier asked for a new war credit of $2,250,000,000.

"The prospects are good," the War Secretary said. "Our generals are more than satisfied and proud of the valor of our men they are leading. Great as the British infantry was in Wellington's and Napoleon's day, they never have been greater than now.

"One thrills with pride when one thinks one belongs to the same race. They are pressing back the formidable foe who devoted his best brains to the study of war for generations. I feel confident that victory is assured to us.

"Numbers and all other resources are on our side. There was only one fear — that years of training and thought on the part of a great military power might be insuperable. Our men demonstrated that it is not so and that British resourcefulness and intelligence are going, as in fields of commerce in the past, when they have been able to snatch victory out of what appeared to be complete commercial disaster to snatch victory again in a few months from what appeared at one moment to be something that was invincible.

"There is no doubt at all that the lesson of this battle is that we have simply to press on with all our resources and with the material at command and victory will be ours."

GIRL DIES IN BUGGY.

Man Takes Girl to Hospital, Saying She Had Fainted While on Ride

Olney, Ill., July 25.—Roy Hinterliter, son of well-to-do residents of Olney, is under arrest following the death of sixteen-year-old Elizabeth Ratchliffe, of Paoli, Ind., The girl has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Albert Fancher, of Olney, for about ten months. She and Hinterliter had been much together during all that time, it is said.

Late last Friday night Hinterliter drove up to the local hospital in a buggy. He said Miss Ratchliffe had fainted in the buggy and that he had not been able to revive her. The girl was taken into the hospital by the attendants, but she was dead, though they worked over her for several hours in a hopeless effort to revive her.

It became apparent that she was in a delicate condition, but an autopsy, it is said, gave no evidence that medicine had been administered or that an illegal operation had been attempted.

State Attorney Morris has refused to admit Hinterliter to bail.

J. D. Knight, of this city, has been awarded the contract for making certain alterations in St. Rita's Church Alexandria county.

The Willard W. C. T. U., will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in Trinity M. E. Church.

THE DEUTSCHLAND

German Submarine Still Lying in Baltimore Dock.

Baltimore, July 25.—A little patch of green visible through a driving rain told watchers today that the German sub-sea freighter /Deutchland, was still there.

What had prevented her from heading for the capes overnight, as apparently planned, was more mysterious than all the mysterious moves, "dope dreams," and theories connected with this submarine venture.

Moves at her dock overnight made it seem certain—at least more certain than ever before—that she was going out.

But after the first maneuxers of the eary night calm settled over the pier, the tug Timmins only occasionally flashed her searchlight out into the storm, and the Necker and Deutschland crews attended divine service and then a banquet aboard the necker.

Strangely enough, the Timmins early today remained at the edge of the log boom, which guards the Deutschland, Heretofore, she had ducked back behind the cordon of barges at about 6 a. m., after completing her searchlight vigil.

All that is needed for a dash is to open the front of the boom, sneak out one barge, throw a tow line to the Deutschland and turn into the middle branch of the Patapsco.

Manifestly, the submarine is ready in over sense of the word for a quick get-away.

Whether the promoters of the new submarine line actually fear for the Deutschland's sister ship, the Bremen, is something they alone know.

It appeared likely today, however, that they have little or no information as to her course. The most likely thing seemed to be that the Deutschland will go down to the capes and lie there in wait for her, unless indeed she is taking a northerly course toward Boston, thereby drawing away the allied patrol from the capes and permitting easier egress for the Deutschland.

SOCIALISTS WORK FOR PEACE

Three Organizations of United States Join With Those of Belligerent Nations

That three great socialistic organizations of the United States are working hand in hand with the socialistic organizations of all the belligerent countries for peace has become known in Paris.

Among the socialistic organizations represented at thec onference were the Socialist Labor Party of the United States, the Socialist Party of America, and the German language group of the Socialist Party of America, giving the socialists of the United State the largest representation in the movement of any neutral country. Several belligerent countries were equally well represented.

In the appeal launched by the congress to the socialists of the entire world the following stand against a "decisive victory" was taken:

"Your governments and your newspapers tell you it is necessary to continue the war in order that it can be made the last war that ever can happen. In this they are deceiving you. War never has killed war. On the contrary, in exciting the sentiments and the interests of revenge, war prepares war; violence calls forth violence. There is but one means definitely to prevent future wars, and that is the conquest of government and capitalistic property by the people themselves. A durable peace will be the fruit of triumphant socialism."

The order of the day, relative to the immediate inauguration of a definite peace program and propaganda closes as follows:

"It is therefore necessary for all socialists to exercise the maximum pressure on representatives in government. It will be necessary to exact the immediate co-operation of the government. It will be necessary to exact the immediate co-operation of the governments and the capitalists with the socialistic party.

"It will be necessary to exact that all parliamentarians vote from now on against all war credits demanded for the purpose of prolonging the war and to demand at once an immediate armistice."

HAIG READY FOR NEW ASSAULT

General Attack Will, it is Expected Follow Bombardment

OBTAIN MORE GROUND

Australian Soldiers Deal Terrific Blows in Drives Recently Made Upon Germans

London, July 25—"The greater part of Pozieres is now ours," reported General Haig this morning in an official statement.

He announced further that at no point had the enemy succeeded in counter-attacks in reaching a British trench.

Today's Paris communique tells of another advance by French troops South of Estres they carried "strongly fortified block-houses," ejected the Germans from nearby trenches, and repulsed all counter- assaults.

London, July 15.—Last night report from Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, telling of heavy artillery action on the British front in France, is generally interpreted here as meaning that preparations are under way for a new general assault against the German positions.

While this bombardment has been in progress, the infantry has made further gains in Pozieres, where, beyond the German third line, the British straddle the important Bapaume highroad.

The heaviest fighting yesterday was borne by the Australian corps, veterans of a hundred battle fields in Europe and Gallipoli. During the night they inflicted severe losses on the Germans, who delivered counter-attacks on numerous sections of the front, their blows being especially heavy between Guillemont and the high wood. Despite these attacks, soldiers from the Antipodes made further progress near the forest and village.

The most extensive gain, however, and one won against the most determined resistance was registered in Pozieres, where house-to-house fighting is going on. The British now hold the larger part of the village, it is officially announced, while in the course of the fighting a number of machine guns and some prisoners have been captured.

The British are attacking on the 8-mile sector of the Picardy front with more than 200,000 men, according to estimates made by the Germans and reported from Berlin. The official statement of the German headquarters, while admitting the British made gains in their attacks on Saturday night and Sunday, state that the German lines have now been entirely "rectified" except for some houses in Pozieres which the British won at heavy cost and which they still hold.

There were some minor actions of a rather sharp character during the night, and yesterday on the French front, but no change of any extent in the front.

The artillery fire along the entire Picardy front has been terrific throughout the day, and word of a new general assault is momentarily expected.

The official statement by German army headquarters, cabled from Berlin, follows:

"It is now evident that the British attacks reported yesterday against the front from Thiepval to Guillemont were made by parts of 11 British divisions, several of which were hurried from other fronts. The only advantage gained by the enemy on the whole line not yet rectified by the Germans is that he entered some houses in Pozieres for which he paid in extraordinarily heavy losses.

"The enemy was defeated at Longueval by a powerful counter-attack by the Brandenburg Grenadiers, of Douamont fame."

A crusade against all unlicensed canines in this city is to be inaugurated shortly by the police department. The police are to be furnished with lists of dogs owners who have taken out licenses and lists of those who have as yet failed to do so, and then a round up of the delinquents will begin. GATHERING OF ISRAEL

Evangelist Gibson Delivers Address Upon History and Promises to the Race

"The Gathering of Israel" was the subject of Evangelist Gibson's discourse at the gospel tent meeting on north Washington street last night. He handled this subject in an interesting manner, describing conditions which prevailed in Judea at the time of the babylonian captivity, the return of the Jews to their own land after seventy years' captivity, as had been foretold by the Prophet Jeremiah, their checkered career during the days of Antiochus Epiphanes and others until the appearance and crucifixion of Christ, when the nation was set aside in a spiritial sense and the gospel preached to the Gentiles. The speaker dwelt specially upon the gathering of the true Israel of God at the second advent of Christ.

The prophetic portions of the scriptures are at present receiving more attention from Bible scholars than at any time for many years, and the final restoration of the Hebrew race to Palestine is now more practical than at any time since "Jerusalem has been trodden down of the Gentiles." This has been going on since Titus destroyed the city thirty years after the crucifixion of Christ. The wild dreams of the crusaders amounted to nothing, from the fact that "the times of the Gentiles had not been fulfilled." When the present war in Europe shall have burned itself out, the Kingdom of Israel will be an an essential in peace procedures, as the land of the Hebrews will act as a buffer between Egypt and the enemies of the entente allies. The present Zionist movement, having tor its object the setting up of the kingdom of Israel, is the outgrowth of this conviction.

The evangelist tonight will speak upon "The Resurrection of the Just."

ANOTHER CRISIS

British Cabinet Near Break Over Ireland

London, July 25—The coalition cabinet was endangered today by the Irish question.

David Lloyd-George, minister of war and originator of the compromise plan for settlement of the Irish problem, was quoted as having offered to resign in view of the failure of the cabinet to acquiesce in his proposals to the Irish Nationalists.

Premier Asquith was understood to be ready also to step down if Lloyd-George retired. Threat to submit the question to a vote of the people in a general election was freely made during the Commons debate.

The only hope of averting such a break lay today in the chance that the Irish Nationalists would consent to further negotiations—and with John Redmond, the party's leader, demanding immediate action and his followers hurling charges of breach of faith at the ministry—it was admitted this hope was a faint one.

CONDITIONS IN VIRGINIA

While we speak regretfully, we know that, sooner or later, some one will utter substantially what the Gazette believes it should express, as it is a matter which seriously affects the people of the entire commonwealth. The modes of assessment and taxation which have of late been resorted to in this state in order to increase revenue will, it is believed, put us eventually in the position of the man who killed the goose that laid the golden egg.

Recently a wealthy man who had taken up his residence in a rural place near Alexandria, becoming incensed at the insistence of officials who were probing for his intangibles, grew impatient and declared he would no longer remain in the Old Dominion. He gave away his valuable farm to a charitable institution and removed to another state. It is alleged in Alexandria that another new comer, who spent nearly forty thousand in purchasing and improving an estate within sight of our city, has announced his purpose to sell out at a sacrifice of about one half of the amount he has spent in Virginia. He, too will not reside in the state under present conditions. It is also reported that Thomas Fortune Ryan is about to present his valuable estate to the United States to be used for government purposes. He has also got enough of present conditions.

If these things are true, and they are generally credited especially among people who are exasperated at the manner in which state officials are exacting every cent possible in order to pile up state receipts, it is time something was done either in explanation or in bringing about a new departure. We believe all should pay their quota towards keeping up the state government, but we never yet clearly understood why a man who pays taxes upon property owned elsewhere should be compelled to pay in another state an additional levy upon the profits he may derive from such holdings. This, however, seems to be the main issue.

The augmentation of offices during the past few years by the General Assembly, of course, calls for more money from the already heavily burdened community. The real utility of many of these new comers at the public crib may possibly be demonstrated, but we believe that the duties of some could be amalgamated with those of others and a large saving effected.

Recent travelers to Palestine tell us many people of some means in that historic land appear as the poor and outcast. Should they don new clothes their taxation would be doubled immediately. The man who may own a modest cottage dares not place a fence around it, as such an act would be noticed at once by the tax-gatherer and he would have the value of his property shot up immediately. A man who has the temerity to whitewash a fence incurs a similar danger.

Many Alexandrians during the past few years have sold their belongings and removed to Washington. Some tell us why. Others are being tempted to follow in their wake.

The Goddess of Liberty on our coat of arms keeps her foot upon the neck of the tyrant while all this is going on, failing to realize that the state she represents is devouring itself.

Taxation played a prominent part in bringing about the revolutionary war. Patrick Henry won a famous suit for Virginians when taxation was the issue. Sooner or later other Virginians inspired as was "the mouthpiece of the revolution," may arise and play their part in breaking shackles we have placed upon ourselves.

WOULD-BE ACHILLES.

Emperor William during his recent trip to a point somewhere in the rear of Peronne, on the Somme front made a speech to the German wounded soldiers in which he is quoted as saying:

"It is the most poignant grief of my life that I am unable to take a more active part in this war. It is my earnest desire to take my place in the trenches and to deal such blows at our enemies as my age and strength would permit. I could take my place with the youngest of you, and I promise that I would leave my mark on the enemy. But the Inscrutable Almighty has willed otherwise. Into my care has been committed by divine destiny the leadership of our country, its armies and its forces on land and sea. The burden of thinking, deciding and leading has been hard upon me, and, realizing this, I know that my life must not be risked in the foremost line of battle, where my feelings, if unrestrained, would carry me swiftly. My life must be conserved carefully for the welfare of Germany in order to carry out the duties assigned to me by divine appointment."

Per contra, Max Osborne, in the Vossiche Zeitung, of Berlin, from western headquarters says: "We are shaken by burning pain as new streams of German blood are flowing and we see our power lessen over what cannot be changed. After two years of war the angel of destruction is passing through the ranks of the German army with a fury and mercilessness as if the death dance of battles had only just begun.

"Whilst our enemies suffer fearful losses, we do not blind our eyes to the new mourning come to us nor over the seriousness of the fate of this decisive battle raging on all fronts. We should be unworthy the stupendous task we have to fulfill and the most incomprehensible sacrifices our heroes make if we were not able to understand the whole fury and burden of these weeks. We feel the raging storm of the united power of the enemy. It is now a question of everything for the life or death of our nation. We stand differently now from what we did in August, 1914, Unexampled deeds of fate lie between. But still the concluding point has to be reached and everything is in the balance of lief or death."

WE SECOND THE MOTION

The Richmond Virginian in commenting upon the statement of John Skelton Williams, Comptroller of the Currency, concerning vacations for bank employees, says:

"We move that a law be passed requiring all newspapers to give their editors and reporters a month's vacation every year, with railroad transportation to any point they want to visit on the continent. This reform is really more important, to us, than the vacation for the bankers."

The Virginian doubtless means well and the beneficiaries of such a law would appreciate a short period far from sanctums and their drudgery. The treadmill existence of most newspaper men seldom appeals to the outsider. They are more apt to receive excoriations than sympathy. Theirs is an unappreciative occupation from start to finish, the public generally supposing that they are ever tuned up and ready to spin out news and comments ad libitum. They are supposed to manufacture intelligence for public consumption, it seldom occurring to the reader that newspaper men are merely the chroniclers of happenings. It is no uncommon occurrence for men upon whom the responsibility of producing papers devolve to awake in the morning to the realization of the fact that they have not a single thought or suggestion to form the basis of editorial comment nor an interesting local item. They often depend upon chance—like Mr Micawber—that something will turn up during the day. Year after year they follow this routine, while others are hieing themselves to watering places or summer resorts expecting to receive their local paper daily.

Aesop, the Athenian philosopher and fabulist, was surprised by an Areopagite upon one occasion while he was playing with some children. The representative from Mar's Hill rebuked Aesop and alleged he had lain aside his brains temporarily. Aesop picked up a bow, unstrung it quickly and cast it upon the ground. He demanded that the Areopagite explain the signification of his act. The latter scratched his head in vain when Aesop observed that a man might be compared to a bow; he must not be kept tightly strung forever as that would impair his usefulness.

TIMELY WARNING.

Present day tendencies among girls of tender years were severely denounced in a sermon delivered Sunday at St. Paul's M. E. Church, Atlantic City, by Rev. Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts of Washington, superintendent of the International Reform Bureau. "Let it not be assumed, said Dr. Crafts, "that all boys are devils and all girls are angels. Many girls seem now to be devil-possessed, singing suggestive songs, reading salacious magazines, enjoying lewd dances, attending unspeakable shows and dressing in most immodest fashion. No wonder 50,000 girls are reported as dropping out of sight every year—in most case running away from home in a devilish fascination for some unworthy man, or to hide shame of previous secret sin.

"The fault is, of course, more than half their parents, who in many cases failed to prepare their daughters in either body, mind or soul for the period of dawning womanhood. Especially ought girls' wills be trained to make right decisions swiftly and surely, and to hold to these decisions tenaciously. Because statistics seem to show that the years from 15 to 17 have been the years when more persons have been converted than at any other period of life, we must not lose sight of the fact that more have also been perverted in that period."

There is one observation of the reverend gentleman which is timely. He refers to the immodest female attire of the present day. We lived in the days of the crinoline, and although among the small fry of that period, the costume caused a disgust from which we never recovered; hence we occasionally read with a shudder the suggestion that hoop-skirts factories are liable to become a manufacturing industry again as it was, even in old Alexandria, half a century ago, as the advertisements of that time in the Gazette will show. But the present day costume of many of the feminine gender is of the other extreme. Abbreviated skirts are well enough for children, but when girls are approaching womanhood and their short and diaphamous skirts attract attention, they are not following the advice of the good man Paul who said, "let women adorn themselves in modest apparel."

Attention is often directed to the large number of girls from twelve to sixteen years of age in Alexandria who are passing through a critical age, who throng the streets nightly with males of their own years, some wearing knee pants. It is so in all places, and while their intercourse may now be guileless, there is no telling what familiarity may breed eventually.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Food riots are taking place at Kavalla, Bulgaria. It is said that 7,000 persons marched through the city crying "Give us bread."

Twenty persons were drowned recently in a collision between two ferryboats on the River Spree, just above Berlin.

A vigorous protest to the British government against the blacklisting of American corporations and firms is expected to go forward to the London foreign office today.

Five were drowned near Sunrise, Wyo., Sunday night when an automobile was swept away by a wall of water resulting from a cloudburst. The party was returning from a picnic in the mountains.

John H. Shea, of Washington was instantly killed shortly after midnight when an automobile in which he was riding turned turtle and rolled 40 feet down an embankment in the Riverdale road.

James W. Pryor, 35 years old, his wife and two children and the child of C. E. Wescott, all of Houghton, Mich., were drowned in Portage Lake, Sunday, when their motorboat collided with another. Westcott and his wife were saved.

The State Department informed the British government yesterday that its memorandum on the mails was wholly unsatisfactory to the United States in meeting the issue raised over the interference with the mails.

Sixteen men, believed to be dead, are imprisoned in the new waterworks tunnel a short distance from "Five Mile" crib in Lake Erie, near Cleveland, Ohio, and efforts to rescue them have proved futile. The men were trapped by an explosion of gas last night.

A French army aviator has flown across Germany, dropping proclamations on Berlin. The airman, sub-Lieut. A. Marchal, was compelled to land within sixty miles of the Russian lines, near Cholm, in Poland, where he was made a prisoner by the Austrians.

The police so far have failed to establish the identity of the man, wife and child found shot to death along a bridle path from the Onwentsia Club, at Lake Forest, Ill., It is thought the man may be Lloyd A. Crapen, of Flint, Mich. Evidently the man had killed his wife and child and then himself.

Falling across a rapidly revolving saw, William Martin, a well-known young man of Western Rowan county, N. C., met instant death Friday He was working about the sawmill and accidentally fell with his body under the saw, the trunk being severed from his lower limbs. A brother met death by lightning a month ago.

The Star Spangled Banner ordinance went into effect yesterday in Baltimore, with a compulsory distribution of copies of the measure to the various police districts and institutions where the national anthem is liable to be played. The great populace of the city must stand when playing or listening to the rendition of the accepted national air or be subject to a fine under $100.

RACE WILL BE CLOSE

Outcome of Next Games of Title Series Being Eagerly Awaited By Fans.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Eagles	2	0	1000
Cardinals	1	1	500
A. C. A. A.	1	1	500
White Sox	0	2	000

Speculation is rife among the baseball followers of this city as to which team will capture the amateur championship of northern Virginia, the awarding of which is being decided by an eighteen-game title series, two games of which are staged every Sunday afternoon. The series will continue until September 10.

At present, the Eagles are in the van, but each club has played but two games and it is too early in the race to make any prediction regarding the winner of the championship, as every team is of the strongest caliber. The clubs are in every way superior to anything in the neighboring country or the District of Columbia, teams from the Washington in the past being defeated continously by the Clarendon nine, which was regarded as invincible, and by the Cardinals, of this city, who played and defeated practically all the fast sandlot nines of Washington and the vicinity.

The Eagles won all their games last season, but were not heard from much this spring and summer until it was announced that this team would figure in the championship series with the Cardinals and White Sox of this city and the Alexandria county nine of Clarendon. It appears, however, as if the Eagles were still out there with that old fighting spirit and strong playing that made them the wonders of this part of the country when they were organized last year.

There are some who credit the White Sox as being out of the class of the other teams, whether this is so or not should wait to be settled at the end of the series, when the final standing is shown. Suffice it to say for the present, however, that although the White Sox have lost the two games played by them in the series so far, both have been lost after a hard fight and last Sunday's game was captured by the Cardinals only after one of the fastest and strongest game the Redlegs have had to play this season in order to win any contest, the Cardinals finally winning by the narrow margin of one run. It should not be at all surprising if the White Sox were to win the next several games played, this being the expected by their many followers.

As announced in these columns yesterday, next Sunday, July 30, at the Cove, the White Sox will line up against the Clarendon nine, while the Cardinals will battle the Eagles at Baggett's diamond. The outcome of these games is awaited with interest.

MAJOR LEAGUE BALL

American League

In the only game played in the American League circuit yesterday the Chicago White Sox took the Detroit Tigers into camp by a score of 3 to 2, and thereby climbed a notch above the Nationals, with whom they had been tied for last honors in the first division. The Nationals are now although in the second division, only four full games behind the Yankees, who are leading, this showing how closely bunched are the five leading teams, Detroit and St. Louis, who occupy sixth and seventh place, respectively, are not so far behind either. This year's chase for the pennant is certainly a merry one.

Today Washington battles the Tigers, and it is Joe Boehling's turn for pitching honors. Other American league schedules are Boston at Cleveland, New York at Chicago, and Philadelphia at St. Louis.

National League.

Today's schedules for the senior circuit are Pittsburg at Philadelphia, Cincinnati at New York, St. Louis at Brooklyn, Chicago at Boston. In the only game played yesterday The Pirates defeated Phillies to the tune of 9 to 1.

In a Crippled Condition.

Although Washington is presumably in the most crippled condition as regards players eligible to play, she is at the present time playing better ball than at any other time during the season, barring perhaps the early days of the season when she was out in front of the other American League clubs.

Nearly every player has been shifted from his natural position to one usually occupied by other of his teammates. Al the players are showing good form, however, and do not seem to be handicapped in any wise by this fact. The acquisition of "Sam" Rice, erstwhile pitcher, to the outfield, and Ed Gharrity, to the first base position, has added a lot of hitting strength to the club, as there is hardly a game that this pair of youngsters does not come forth with one or two bingles each at opportune moments in the game.

It is a problem as to whether or not Gharrity will be kept at the game at the initial corner, however, although he is hitting in fine form. Griffith's whole infield is a problem at the present, and when Morgan gets back in the game at second, it is a question how he will move the men now engaged in holding down the infield positions.

Arrangements are being made by the members of the Old Dominion Boat Club for a big reception to be given Saturday, August 12, from 4 until 8 p. m. On this occasion will be shown the progress of the club this season in training crews for the four-oared shells, besides those of the double-oared and single-oared type.

Swimming and diving contests will also be features of the entertainment. Later in the evening a dance will probably be held.

Refreshments for the occasion will be served by the ladies' auxiliary to the boating organization, members of the auxiliary being the honorary lady members of the boat club.

In order to avoid crowding or inconvenience to guests of any sort it is announced that admission will be by card only, and about two hundred and fifty invitations will be issued by the committee in charge.

By the efforts and good work of the "Co-operative Paint Society," the club house has already put on a new dress and a generally attarctive appearance, Announcement was made in these columns yesterday of the completion of the work of painting and decorating.

New members are being added to the membership list of the club at each meeting and great activity is being manifested in all its departments. The rowing crews give promise of restoring some of the reputation enjoyed by the club in past years

The Pythagorians of Ancient Greece ate simple food, practiced temperance and purity. As a badge they used the five pointed star which they regarded as a symbol of health. A red five pointed star appears on each package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and still fulfils its ancient mission as a symbol of health. If you are troubled with indigestion, biliousness or constipation, get a package of these tablets from your druggist. You will be surprised at the quick relief which they afford. Obtainable everywhere.
